MONDAY MORNING MAY 3 1880

THE SENATORIAL SYNDICATE

Senator Conkling has advices from Illinois which convince him that that state will elect Grant delegates to the Chicago convention. He is also able to announce that Grant will be nominated—and elected. He promises the ex president the electoral vote of New York and in general invests the Grant boom with a halo of the most roseate hue. But possibly that prospect which the lordly senator is feasting his ravished eyes upon is only a mirage. Other advices from Illinois do not confirm his view or vision. It is the policy of the Grant men, now that so much of their case is staked on Illinois to claim everything. The Chicago Inter Ocean third term organ has been counting the delegates for Grant as fast as the county conventions have been held. But the Chicago Tribune has followed up its contemporary and pruned the claims made by it of their elaborated redundancy. By the Tribune's figures which seem to be based on careful ascertainment of the facts, Blaine has in the delegations so far chosen to the state convention about two votes to Grant's one. And the Tribune says its object has been to give the news simply and make no predictions while that of the third term organ is to reverse the true figures and give third term a majority.

The three bosses of the Grant boom are Conkling of New York, Cameron of Pennsylvania and Logan of Illinois. They are the remnant of the senatorial clique which had so good a time running things during Grant's presidency and particularly during his [illegible] term. On the restoration they have staked their political future and care not how they win. The republican voters of the country are but so many pawns on their chess board. To them the popular will matters not; the object is to circumvent it. By every kind of trickery, pressure and coercion known to political management Conkling and Cameron have succeeded in carrying instructions in their respective states—though by an exceedingly close vote in each—for Grant. Now comes the test of Logan's strength in Illinois. And Black John is having a serious time of it. He has been out of his seat in the senate for some weeks giving his orders throughout Illinois. No doubt as he cracks the lash some poor abject office holding and hoping republicans are obeying his behest. But Logan has a more rebellious field for the driver's whip than that of Conkling or Cameron. Western people do not take kindly to political bosses and drivers and are not slow to show it.

As for Senator Conkling he must have Grant and this necessity arises from the fact that Conkling is the personal enemy of the other three prominent candidates. He has not spoken to Blaine since he got off with a broken coxcomb from an encounter with the member from Maine in the house of representatives a dozen years ago. Likewise there was a passage between Washburne and himself when both were members of the house many years since on which occasion Washburne spoke with a severity seldom employed even in the house of representatives, denouncing Conkling as a falsifier and repeating the denunciation. He and Washburne have never recognized each other since. With Sherman, Conkling has been at enmity ever since the secretary of the treasury invaded his senatorial lordship's privileges by entering the New York custom house and dragging forth his man Cornell. Thus Conkling is for Grant chiefly because he regards all the other leading candidates as his personal enemies—and with any one of them in the executive chair where would be his control of the immense patronage of the great state of New York? And losing this, and the hope of it, how could he still be dictator, and wherewithal would he control future conventions? Of course therefore Conkling is for Grant. With him it is Grant or nothing.

The senatorial syndicate has undertaken to nominate Grant without regard to the wishes of the republican voters of the country. Indeed the study of the syndicate is to set those wishes aside, or carry the object over them by a mixture of strategy, duplicity, force and fraud. The main reliance is the democratic southern states. But should those states nominate the candidate, with the aid of the senatorial syndicate, they would then withdraw from the contest and leave the battle to elect him to the republicans of the north, whom the combination of the senatorial machine with the powerless republican minority of the democratic states of the south has outraged and overwhelmed. It is safe to doubt whether any candidate could be elected, who should be forced in this way by states which can give no republican electoral votes on those states which are the sole reliance of the republican party for the election.

PARTY PREFERENCES—JUDICIAL NOMINATIONS

The Sunday Welcome, being a democratic paper conducted by democrats and desiring the ascendency of the democratic party both in national and state affairs, supports the state democratic ticket now and will support the national democratic ticket in November. As it is a democratic paper of course this is right. It may even be an independent democratic paper and do this, but it is not independent of party preferences when it [illegible] it, and it is useless for it to profess to. As for The Oregonian while it is independent of the dictation of party managers, as it has shown that independence during many years by most striking proofs, it is not and never has professed to be indifferent to the success of the general principles of the republican party. Its political convictions as all its readers know are and ever have been strongly republican. It desires the continued ascendency of republican principles in national affairs, and supports the candidates nominated by the state republican convention recently held in Portland because, in the first place, those candidates are worthy of support and because in the second place it is necessary for all who desire to sustain national principles as against state sovereignty and confederate dogmas to stand together in this year of the presidential election and combine their efforts in a common cause. If the Sunday Welcome would frankly own that it wishes the democratic party to obtain the ascendency both in the state and general governments as it undoubtedly does, there would be reason to commend the sincerity of its position. And since it is a democratic paper and is conducted by democrats there would seem to be no good reason why it should not frankly avow its objects.

From [illegible] journal which is now more earnestly [illegible] laudably trying to do the work of a democratic paper while at the same time professing to have no party predilections or leanings, we take the following:

> One of the best arguments for the election of [illegible] and Prim is unconsciously put forth by The [illegible] the election of Judge [illegible] judicial district. Judge Boise [illegible] of the supreme court [illegible] proceedings and who [illegible] the other judges [illegible] cases brought before the court [illegible] merit equal condemnation [illegible] that [illegible] was just [illegible] But The Oregonian [illegible] members [illegible] condemn [illegible] or the republican

We give the above as we find it, and leave readers to wrestle with its remarkable syntax and other grammatical peculiarities. What we wish to [illegible] here is simply the Judge Boise does not merit equal condemnation on the ground [illegible] because he did not join the other two in the decisions which have been so [illegible] criticised. Consistency therefore [illegible] on our side and want of discrimination is as conspicuously manifested [illegible] the [illegible] quoted.

As for Judges Kelly and Prim they fall very far short of being men of [illegible] fame or talents. Neither of them has been a student, neither is known as a thinker, neither has ever evinced profound knowledge of law and neither has even a respectable knowledge of general science and literature. The same may be said of Judge Burnett. We speak thus plainly because these candidates for the supreme bench are absurdly put forward as men of superior attainments and in fact of vast juridical and general knowledge. They are all much past middle age; where are the monuments of their thought, erudition and wisdom? They have all been prominently connected with affairs for many years, yet what has either of them done that has in the slightest degree led public thought or shaped public policy? They are all lawyers of many years standing, yet what one of them ever obtained eminence at the bar or ever was able to earn at the bar more than an extremely humble livelihood? Or what one of them could do it now? As lawyers they have not been known as leaders of the profession but only as merely instrumental and mechanical members of it, working as plodders for the small rewards to be gained in a general competition with the great numbers above whom their talents could not enable them to rise. These are plain facts which may justly be put forward to meet the pretensions which there is so little to support. It is not claimed that the candidates opposed to them are great men. But they are men of fair abilities and good industry, who can in no respect whatever suffer by comparison with their competitors for judicial honors. And in their behalf it is much to say that they have not passed the age when ambition to excel and habits of application are lost, nor have they reached that stage of fossilized, ossified or petrified intellect which complacently satisfies itself that it is in possession of all wisdom and authorizes partisan supporters to put forth this pretension as a main argument for the support and confidence of their fellow men.

THE MISSISSIPPI JOB

The commission which has had under consideration for some time past various plans for the improvement of the navigation of the Mississippi has recommended to congress a system intended to insure the contraction of the water way of the river to a comparatively uniform width and the protection of low banks. This scheme contemplates the expenditure of between five and six millions of dollars on six reaches extending over nearly two hundred miles of the shoalest water below Cairo embracing the following localities: New Madrid, Plum Point, Memphis, Helena, Choctaw Point and Lake Providence. The report of the commission has been referred to the house committee on improvement of the navigation of the Mississippi and a sub committee has been appointed to make further inquiry into the character of the plan recommended with the expectation that if it is feasible and advantageous the bill for making the necessary appropriations will be presented at the present session of congress. The commission expresses the opinion that the future cost of the proposed system embracing such additional works as will be necessary to render permanent the contemplated improvement, will not exceed the sum asked for initial works. That is, the plan as now laid out is on a scale which contemplates an expenditure of ten or twelve million dollars. But of course if undertaken it will cost far more before it is finished. This is one of the vast schemes of public expenditure which is demanded by the solid south. In order to get a beginning it is put in this seductive way as if the cost would not be very large, but the idea is to make this beginning the basis for an expenditure of forty or fifty millions of dollars. It is the expenditure that is wanted rather than improvement of the river. Steamboats and barges can traverse the river very well now. It is proper and necessary to deepen the river if possible so that ships can ascend to New Orleans, but this great scheme to deepen the river far above that city where navigation by river craft has always been practicable looks like an enormous job to get an expenditure of money for the benefit of the country. Even more does it wear this look when it is considered that the great lateral railway lines do nearly all the business.

But the south probably has political power enough to force this job. Meantime reasonable and moderate requests such as are presented in behalf the growing commerce of the Pacific northwest, are smothered in the din and roar of this and other similar demands. It is extremely hard to get what of right ought to be had when these enormous schemes are in the way demanding to be served first, and which when served leave nothing for more modest and necessary enterprises.

If sound English opinion may be trusted Parnell has overshot the mark. By attempting unreasonable things he has degraded his status from that of a sincere patriot to that of a wild enthusiast. The error is common to those who undertake important changes in great matters and generally results from unwise but honest zeal. Such upon a casual view would appear the mistake of Parnell but the true cause lies deeper. In bidding with his rival Shaw for the home rule leadership he sunk the statesman in the politician, championing extreme impracticable measures to catch the popular ear and the result will be the failure of the great and perhaps just purposes in view.

That sensitive tail has been trodden upon but lightly it is true and the usual responding roar is heard. We reprint from the Pall Mall Gazette by telegraph to-day a piece of British bluster about the Monroe doctrine. Its point the European powers and the various little American states will not permit the "Yankee" government to exercise that control over the American continent which is asserted as its right. The threat is impertinent. The United States will pursue its policy relative to American colonization and important enterprises on the American continent with as little regard to foreign menaces as it has for foreign opinion.

Congress is going to spend lots of money for the good of the country. The Mississippi improvement scheme will not get it quite all. The house committee on public buildings and grounds has agreed on a bill authorizing new public buildings in thirty seven cities, sixteen of which are in northern states and twenty one in southern. The total estimated cost of the buildings is $5,000,000.

Wisconsin, another of the solid republican states, is coming up against Grant. But the boomers probably will regard such states as Wisconsin, Iowa, Massachusetts and Ohio as of little consequence, as Kentucky, Missouri, Arkansas and Texas will make him president and leave [illegible].

We call attention to the dispatch in our columns [illegible] from Chicago reviewing [illegible] trade in all staple commodities [illegible] It seems that a very [illegible] for which [illegible] all [illegible] before the new crop comes.

There are signs [illegible] reports concerning the coming election which would seem to point to the conclusion that democratic candidates for judicial positions would have a sorrier [illegible] of it if the executive had the power of [illegible]

CITY

ST JOHNS FIRE DEPARTMENT.—Few people in Portland know that the little burg of St Johns five miles down the river has a fire department, but it nevertheless can boast of an organization of the kind which is quite as efficient in its sphere as any in the state. It embraces all the employes of the large factory of Messrs Wadhams [illegible] & Co., over forty men and they have been so thoroughly drilled that when an alarm is sounded by the whistle at the factory every man moves with alacrity and his place like clock work knowing what to do and a blaze that gets ahead of them must burn with unusual rapidity. While the factory hands were at dinner last Thursday a fire caught in some shavings and dry timber and without quick work [illegible] than the department would do the mill would have burned or been badly damaged. But the whistle sounded the alarm sharply and in [illegible] every man was at his place and with the buckets [illegible] always kept ready the flames were as quickly checked as they had started. The managers of the factory [illegible] congratulate [illegible] prepared to meet the fiery [illegible].

SCHOOL ROOMS VACATED.—Since the resumption of studies in the public schools Miss Chamberlain of class A 4th grade and Mrs. Harker of class B 4th grade have occupied the rooms in the Central school building which are only furnished light from the skylights. During the cool weather the rooms answered the requirements of the school to a reasonable extent notwithstanding the light was rather dim and the ventilation imperfect. Since the advent of warm weather the ventilation was found to be so bad as to be positively detrimental to the health of the pupils. So inadequate were the sanitary requirements of the rooms that the attention of the board of directors was called to the matter. The board decided to have the rooms vacated at once. A suite of rooms in the Park street school building, in the south wing first floor were selected. Saturday the seats were removed from the Central to the Park building and hereafter Miss Chamberlain and Mrs. Harker will occupy those rooms with their pupils.

INJUNCTION ASKED FOR.—Ex Receiver George Revett, of the Dayton Sheridan and Grand Ronde railway has asked in the United States Court for an injunction restraining Joseph Gaston from suing him in the county court of Yamhill county. It will be remembered that Joseph Gaston some time ago brought suit in the county court of Yamhill against Receiver Revett for the recovery of the sum of $30,000, which he alleges had been improperly expended by Revett during the time he had charge of the road. The receiver sets up the defense that as he is a U S officer, having been appointed by the U S court Gaston must come into the U S tribunals to sue him and hence his application for an injunction. The case will come up this morning before Judge Deady.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS.—The monthly report of our city schools appears elsewhere to day. The attendance has been good notwithstanding the prevalence of the measles which affected the Central school the most. Attention is called to the surprisingly few cases of tardiness—only 17 cases in the entire department—during 20 days of school affording forty opportunities for tardiness. Over 1800 children sat down in their seats promptly each day with but 17 exceptions. Even this important lesson of punctuality is invaluable to the rising generation. Five years ago there were but 973 pupils in attendance during April and 520 cases of tardiness were recorded. Quite a contrast. In efficiency and general progress the real work done has made quite as much improvement.

PRESENTATION.—Saturday afternoon Capt. James Carroll, formerly in command of the Alex. Duncan, but now master of the California was made the recipient of a handsome present. The testimonial consisted of a beautiful gold headed cane, and was presented by the officers of the steamer Alex. Duncan as a token of the esteem and friendship borne by them to the retiring captain. The presentation was made at the Holton House, a short address being delivered by Mr F M Bartholow the general agent, in behalf of the officers of the Alex Duncan. The cane is of ebony surmounted by a gold head which bears the following inscription "To Captain James Carroll from the officers of the Alex. Duncan."

THE SCARCELY RECOVER.—Johnny Mooney, the lad who accidentally shot himself in the thigh some days ago, was removed by his father yesterday from St. Vincent Hospital to his own home. There is much doubt about the boy's recovery. The ball ruptured one of the blood vessels of the leg which had to be taken up. By reason of this, the lower portion of the limb could not receive sufficient blood to maintain vitality. It is thought the limb will have to be amputated, as gangrene will [illegible] in. The little fellow is so weak from loss of blood and the shock to his system that he will scarcely be able to stand the operation of amputation.

SATURDAY'S EXCURSION.—The excursion to the Cascades on Saturday was a delightful affair. The Lurline left the foot of Alder street shortly after 8 o'clock and steamed to Ruckel's landing, three miles up the gorge from the O S N Co's wharf and disembarked its passengers who spent several hours in rambling along the cliffs. It was intended to make an attempt with the Lurline to reach the lower end of the canal, but for some cause the venture was abandoned. At 4 o'clock the return voyage was commenced and the dock at this city was reached at 9.

ANOTHER PIONEER GONE.—Mr Josiah Melvin, one of the old pioneers of the state, departed this life at his residence near St. Johns Saturday morning at 9 o'clock of pneumonia. The deceased came to Oregon in 1845 and was known as one of the most worthy pioneers and respected citizens. He leaves no family and no relatives on this coast. The funeral took place yesterday at 2 P M from the Love schoolhouse.

THE FERRY COMPANY.—The new ferry company recently organized to put on a boat between Jefferson and [illegible] streets in the southern part of the city, are making arrangements to commence active operations as soon as a franchise is obtained. A boat will be hired to go upon that route while a new one is being built. The plans have been drawn for the new boat and a contract will be let in a short time for its construction.

ENTERTAINMENT AND SOCIABLE.—A literary and musical entertainment, to be followed by a sociable, will be given on Tuesday evening by the young ladies of the Congregational church. The programme, a full programme of which appears in our advertising columns, will be given in the audience room and at the conclusion refreshments will be served in the basement. Admission 25 cents.

SPECIAL TRIP.—The steamer Vancouver will make a special trip to this city this evening and return the same night. She will leave Vancouver at 5:30 P M, bringing over the officers at the post, the military band and many citizens of Vancouver who will come over to attend the performance at the New Market theater.

DISTRICT GRANGE.—The regular meeting of Multnomah District Grange will be held at the Grange hall in East Portland on the third Saturday in May (15th), commencing at 10:30 o'clock sharp. A full attendance is desired. All fourth degree members cordially invited.

MARRIED.—Last evening at 7:30 o'clock Mr Henry Lauline and Miss J Thalheim were united in matrimony. The many friends of the happy couple will unite in wishing them a long life of prosperity. Compliments acknowledged.

FOR THE NORTH.—The steamer Alex Duncan will sail for Victoria and Sound ports to-morrow (Tuesday) morning at 8 o'clock, with passengers and freight.

CARD OF THANKS

MRS D P Smith wishes to express her thanks to the ladies and gentlemen who so kindly assisted at her benefit on Friday evening last, to Barton Hill and Miss Cameron for their fine renditions, to [illegible] Bach for her sweetly rendered song, to [illegible] Kinross Lowndsdale, Franklin Victon [illegible] and Brown for admirable vocal and instrumental music, to Messrs Jewett, Vine Williams [illegible] Morse for kind assistance and to Mr C [illegible] for the efficient manner in which he conducted the business arrangements.

BUSINESS NOTICES

[illegible] Wrinkle & Co announce that they have purchased the large bankrupt stock of Comstock & Pfluger at forty cents on the dollar and present a sliding scale of prices at which those goods all new and first-class will be sold.

PERSONAL

Mrs Dr Nottage of East Portland will leave on a visit to relatives and friends in Kansas and Virginia. She will be joined by her husband some time in the fall when they will return to Portland.

BASE BALL

Yesterday the College Boys and Young Pacifics played a match game of base ball in which the former came out victorious. Score 30 to 4.

This afternoon May 3d 1880 Weinhard's Lager Beer, Saur Kraut and Vienna Sausages at Paul's Chicago Exchange, [illegible] First street [illegible] Salmon and Taylor.

Some merchants complain of dull times at present. This can be avoided if they only will try to carry out the plan of selling their goods at low prices thereby causing them out and consequently making large sales. [illegible] Wald has followed this rule and they [illegible] complain of hard times.

A choice selection of Edition Peters of [illegible], the best and cheapest edition of classical and modern music published has just been received from New York at Bartsch's Music Store 143 First street, Odd Fellows Temple.

Do not fail to send for the new and beautiful [illegible] Where is Heaven [illegible] and Enchantment just issued. For sale at Bartsch's music store 143 First street Odd Fellows Temple. You cannot be disappointed in them.

AMUSEMENTS

MR MAGUIRE'S BENEFIT.—This evening Mr John Maguire will be the recipient of a grand complimentary testimonial, tendered him by the citizens of Portland. The sale of tickets has been large—a most gratifying degree—and an overflowing house may be anticipated. Saturday the sale of reserved seats commenced and by noon to day there will probably not be a vacant seat to be had in the dress circle. All holders of tickets should go at once to Messrs [illegible] and secure their seats to avoid the [illegible] rush. A very attractive programme will be presented. The opera [illegible] Call, in which Mr Barton Hill and Miss Cameron will appear. The 21st regimental band will next render [illegible] Lily of Killarney. Mr [illegible] White will [illegible] the next feature on the programme [illegible] which the first [illegible] from the opera of Les Cloches de Corneville [illegible] the last mentioned selection [illegible] Mr D [illegible] appear in a recitation [illegible] also Mr Lott [illegible] and Little Dot. Miss M [illegible] will render the famous drinking song from the opera La Grand Duchesse and Mr Maguire will recite [illegible] Flag. The band will then render a potpourri from Meyerbeer's grand opera Le Huguenots. The evening's performance [illegible]. During the evening the new drop curtain, the subject being [illegible] Carthage, just from the brush of Mr Wilkins the scenic artist will be unrolled. It is intended that the performance shall close at [illegible] so that carriages can be ordered at that hour.

OLYMPIC CLUB.—The first annual exhibition of the Olympic Club will be given at New Market theater on Thursday evening, May 6th. In another column will be found the programme.

EXHIBITION BALL

The pupils of Prof Charlie Cardinell will give this (Monday) evening a grand Terpsichorean and musical entertainment at Turn Halle. Last Saturday afternoon a rehearsal was held at Turn Halle at which a reporter of this paper was present. The pupils marched from the stage with a precision and nicety of manner and gait that was charming in the extreme. They then by a series of beautiful evolutions broke into small parties and went through in a most creditable style the difficult manœuvres of the professor's grand march. After the march a beautiful military quadrille followed. This was marked with the same degree of perfection noticeable in the march. Then followed the tambourine dance. The Fairy Queen dance however was the gem. Some of the postures in this dance were really exquisite. The centennial quadrille and star dance were also filled with bewildering changes. The waltz minuet which brought the exhibition to a close was in its way an unequalled performance and was enjoyed by all. Of the young ladies who deserve mention on account of the excellent manner in which they acquitted themselves Lilly Rosenblatt, Kate Randall, Hattie Fleischner, Bell DeFries, and Celia Abrams were specially noticeable.

The large hall will doubtless be filled with a large audience. Doors will open at 7:30, opening overture at 8:15.

STREET IMPROVEMENTS

The East Portland Vindicator says that the following street improvements are contemplated in that municipality:

The contract for the improvement of portions of Fifth and Seventh streets, Stephens' addition, embracing eight blocks has been let to Michael Tierney, of Portland who commenced work Monday. The improvement will consist of grading and graveling a 16 foot roadway commencing at I street where the last improvement of Fifth street terminated. The grading will require a cut of 2509 yards with only 1 yard fill. The improvement requires 933 cubic yards of gravel. The contract price is $1433 92.

The bids for the proposed improvement of I street from Water street to Twelfth will be received at the city recorder's office and the contract awarded at the meeting of the board of trustees. A sidewalk is to be constructed on the south side of I street from Water to Fourth, and also between Fifth and Sixth streets and a gravel roadway from Fourth to Twelfth. City Surveyor Campbell completed the survey for the same this week.

ETHICAL COMPARISONS.

PORTLAND May 2 1880

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

I am just now studying moral philosophy in the high school and on certain questions I have some doubt which I desire you to remove.

1 Which is the greater crime, seeking to bribe a presidential elector whereby the safety of a great nation may be affected and then swearing out of it, or seeking to bribe a councilman of a small municipality to vote for a police commissioner, confessing the crime and escaping punishment by the aid of one of the men—a de facto judge—who sought to bribe the elector?

2. Whether if Bellinger did the former act it is not a consistency that rises to the dignity of morality—even handed justice—for him to connive at and assist in the escape of the smaller briber?

THE BLAZE OF SATURDAY

The fire which broke out in Smith's building corner of First and Ash streets Saturday morning proved rather destructive to property. That portion of the building involved by the fire was occupied by the offices of the Daily Standard, Willamette Farmer, Resources of Oregon and Washington Territory, [illegible] job printer and the [illegible].

Owing to the fact that the hour when the alarm was sounded was some time before the fire department responded. Meanwhile the flames [illegible] ed much headway and it was only with great difficulty that their progress was checked. Before this was [illegible] the premises [illegible] was [illegible] damaged by fire [illegible] escape the water. The only thing saved in the Standard office was the forms and the books, papers, files etc and they only with great difficulty. Everything else in the composing room shared a common fate. [illegible] of the Willamette Farmer was saved but was somewhat damaged [illegible]. The [illegible] of the Resources escaped with [illegible] that [illegible] partly from water. The [illegible] & Co fronting on First [illegible] were badly damaged from fire and water. The book [illegible] office of Mr Waldang was also damaged.

The fire is supposed to have originated from the explosion of a lamp in the composing room of the Standard. [illegible] foreman of the office having completed his labors turned the lamps in the composing room down very low and started home. Fifteen minutes later the alarm was sounded when it was discovered that the whole interior of the office was wrapped in flames. Much credit is due the fire department for their gallant efforts in subduing the fire.

The following are the losses and insurance: A. Noltner loss about $[illegible], insured in the Home Mutual for $100. Baker Bull & Co loss $300, no insurance. [illegible] A Clarke loss $[illegible] insured in Hamburg Bremen for $[illegible]. J G Walling loss $400 insured in London Liverpool and Globe, New Zealand, California and Royal for $2000 each. Gilman & Co loss $400 insured in Fireman's Fund for $[illegible]. A LaGrand loss nominal, fully insured. The building is owned by Messrs W K Smith, Watson and J S Smith fully insured.

Arrangements have been effected by which all the papers named will be published without interruption.

So brief and evanescent is the fame of beauty! To day on the lips of all men and triumphant in the eyes of all, to-morrow forgotten as if she had not been. It is strange but people are already ceasing to speak of Sara Bernhardt. Only one resource never fails. Mme Rachel's Enamel Bloom is the sine qua non of perennial loveliness. Report of State Fair Committee on Wm Scheffler's Wines and Brandy.

To the Board of Managers of the Oregon State Fair for the year 1879—DEAR SIRS Your committee appointed to report on the exhibit of wines and brandies do respectfully report that they have thoroughly examined and tested the PORT SHERRY and AMBER WINES put on exhibition by Mr Wm Scheffler of St Helena Napa county Cal and that we have called in experts in aid of our judgment and would feel that we were doing Mr Scheffler great injustice did we simply report an exhibit of fine wines. The committee feel that they should go much further and say we find an exhibit of really very superior wines, which we feel justified in recommending to the confidence of all who have use for wines. We have every reason to believe them pure and we can say for ourselves that they are delicious in their flavor.

We have also tested Mr Scheffler's SANITARY (VACUUM DISTILLED) GRAPE BRANDY and it is pronounced by connoisseurs brought to our aid as being wonderfully smooth and inviting—and the fact that by the new process of distilling adopted by Mr Scheffler the brandy is freed from the fusil oils is a desideratum never before attained as we believe any should and doubtless will make Mr Scheffler the leading brandy manufacturer on this coast. We would recommend to all druggists a trial of this brandy and these wines. And your committee would recommend the award of the society's diploma for SUPERIOR BRANDY AND WINES

THE NARROW GAUGE RAILWAY

Appointments Surveys and Choice of Routes to Tide Water

A meeting of the stockholders of the Oregon Railway company Limited was held at the company's head office at Dundee last Tuesday 13th April.

The following appointments were made. Local president [illegible] general manager [illegible] Reid vice president and [illegible] directors [illegible] Mr [illegible] Portland board of [illegible] Portland [illegible] of the [illegible].

[illegible] East Portland and Astoria [illegible] to [illegible] a very liberal [illegible] ing a prompt [illegible] to the [illegible] at [illegible] and donate [illegible] of the road terminals at East Portland instead of [illegible] or Astoria [illegible] taken [illegible].

[illegible] to [illegible] the trail on existing between Oswego and [illegible] the west side to [illegible] that point to and a [illegible] crossing of the Willamette river above Milwaukie and thence to East Portland, also to examine and report on the surveys and plans made by [illegible] of the route surveyed by the Astoria & Willamette [illegible] road company from Forest Grove to Astoria a distance of eighty miles [illegible] coal field of superior quality within twenty eight miles of Astoria.

If this route were to be adopted the division of the narrow gauge railway would [illegible] at West Chehalem North Yamhill county, the east side branch coming from south eastern Oregon would cross the Willamette at French Prairie and run up the Chehalem river to Forest Grove while the west side branch from King's valley would go through Lafayette and [illegible] at West Chehalem and thence be extended to Astoria. The North Bend from San Francisco is now on her way with a second cargo of iron rails for the narrow gauge. The [illegible] Hillery left Middlesbrough [illegible] April with [illegible] rails which [illegible] another iron vessel sailed from the same port on the 20th April with 1,000 tons more rails for the narrow gauge company. The remainder of the iron required for its construction is coming from San Francisco in shipments of 500 tons each.

Mr Montgomery the contractor has 10 miles to construct altogether before the 10th of October while the narrow gauge company is now finishing its extension to Dallas and is under bonds to reach that city within 45 days. Immediately thereafter this west side branch will be constructed on to Lewisville the valley of the Luckiamute but whether by way of Monmouth or Lees valley has not yet been determined.

A surveying party started out this morning to survey a route from Oswego to East Portland—a route which Ben Holladay intended to adopt for the Oregon Central railroad in 1870.

THE TEST.
THE VARIOUS SALT COMPANIES OF SAN FRANCISCO, hotly competing for the U S Government contract an analysis was determined upon prior to making any award for Salt supplies. For this purpose that eminent Chemist Thomas Price Esq Government Assayer was employed to test each and every sample furnished and report their comparative merit as regards Purity and Strength. The result, as shown below was a complete victory for the American Salt Company, it having been awarded the contract for every description of Salt supplies by the U S Commissary Department and the U. Attention! Attention! Attention!
Is called to the fact that we have just received, per steamer State of California, a LARGE BANKRUPT STOCK, purchased in New York by MR. J FRANKLIN at 50 cents on the dollar and the way we intend to show you that what we say is so, and not merely bragging is by giving you a Price List that will astonish you all and if these figures are not the LOWEST in Oregon, we will stand aside and take a back seat. Competition is the life of trade, and there is so much competition in Portland that goods must be sold low to gain trade and owing to the facilities we have in having our own wholesale house in San Francisco at 18 and 20 Battery street, we will again state that our prices cannot be beat.

CHARLESTON AND ITS SURROUNDINGS

The War Memories that Cluster Around a Southern City

[Correspondence of the Springfield Republican

[illegible] les on is a c[illegible] ly and quiet city and its prom[illegible] ence in [illegible] rebe[illegible] ion makes it full of interest to the northerner The ruins of an old church attest the destructive force of the federal shells and a visit to Fort Moultrie which may be cheaply made by means of a ferry boat to Sullivan's Island rev[illegible] recollections of the terrible struggle between the union and rebel forces in Charleston harbor Fort Moultrie is now in tolerable condition with four or five Parrott guns hastily mounted which were put in place at the time of the [illegible] trouble with Spain At one corner of the fort is the historic spot where Sergeant Jasper of revolutionary fame during a bombardment of the fort spliced the flag staff which the British had shot away A statue and monument to commemorate his name and bravery stands on the battery in Charleston erected in 187[illegible] Fort Sumter is about two miles from Fort Moultrie and is garrisoned by a single man It looks like an undesirable residence being but gloomy stone walls surrounded by the sea Battery Wagner on Morris Island is about two miles from Sumter and across his stretch of water the federal forces threw the shells and balls which made Sumter such an unhealthy place of residence for the rebels after they took possession of it Castle Pinckney on an island near the city is fast falling into ruin From Battery Wagner the Union forces shelled the city of Charleston, four or five miles away The old residents of the city relate many curious incidents of the time One old colored man once a slave, but happy in his freedom told that when a hot shot from Battery Wagner had started a conflagration a fire company composed of colored men was working their engine to extinguish the flames when a shell from our guns struck the engine, breaking it into fragments but strangely enough only three of the firemen were seriously injured When one of the shells struck the ground had exploded the smoke would hardly clear away before some one would be searching in the hole to recover the brass bands for which $20 in confederate money was paid as reward. The fragments of shells were recast into cannon balls and fired back at the federal forces An intelligent gentleman from Tennessee who was in the confederate army during the war made the tour of inspection and observation of Fort Moultrie and vicinity in our party He acknowledged that the south was whipped and didn't appear to be very sorry about it while he declared it as his opinion that the south could never be induced to take part in another civil war, that a few old fire-eaters might talk so but they could not again get a following He said the greatest mistake the south made was in firing on Sumter which is undoubtedly true

Planetary Sensation.

[From the Providence Journal]

Those who study the stars will have plenty of occupation in the coming years The index hand on the dial plate points to events of momentous import The four great planets reach their nearest point to the sun more nearly together than they have done for almost 2000 years It is not unreasonable to suppose that with their strong pull and pull altogether they will create some unusual disturbance in the chaotic elements that make up the sun's fiery mass The forces of the new spot cycle are now in active operation and those who have closely watched the influence of the solar disturbance on climatic conditions predict a hot summer from the heat waves that follow the commencement of the tremendous solar outbreaks The hidden chambers of the great pyramid have given forth in oracular fashion momentous prophecies for 1881, to the few disciples who have faith in their teachings and astrologers cast strange horoscopes from the unusual planetary combinations

THE REAL ESTATE MARKET.

The following special report of the real estate market is furnished THE OREGONIAN by Clark & Upton, real estate brokers and architects—

The business of the past week shows a great improvement on that of the two preceding During the fourteen days prior to our report of the 23d inst. 46 deeds were recorded the total amount being $85 497 50 During the past week 35 deeds were recorded aggregating $87 017 17 and divided as follows city 1[illegible] country, 12 East Portland 6 cemetery 1. Of these, 7 were for nominal consideration and 1 confirmatory It is probable that the feeling of confidence in the future of Portland was never greater than at the present time In our opinion the said confidence was never so well founded. The prospects of early and extensive development of the vast unutilized resources of Oregon were never so fully assured The fact that so many railroad companies are vieing with each other in the race for occupancy unmistakably indicates an enormous expansion of production and commerce in the near future. On the other hand, sensational misrepresentations concerning the dangers threatening the navigation of the Columbia river, designed undoubtedly as a bear movement, have had but little effect The bar of the Columbia may continue to shift from time to time, as it always has done and probably will continue to do unless steps are taken to confine the outflow to one channel But in any case the flow of the mighty river will continue to cut its way through as it has for countless ages and commerce will flow into it, to the great increase of the wealth of Oregon and Washington

EASTERN FREIGHTS AND MARKETS.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN]

NEW YORK May 1—Dullness in the freight market continues to be the leading feature and is attributable to the unsettled state of affairs in San Francisco as well as to the declining prices of goods of all descriptions, and until bottom prices are touched there are not likely to be many purchases for the California trade. Rates of freight are quoted more steadily as but two lines have vessels on berth While there is a pretence to advance figures one of the lines is accepting less than the rates [illegible] last vessels,

Tonnage movement the past month has been the largest of the year amounting to six vessels registering 10 44[illegible] tons as against five vessels of 7,348 tons for the same month last year The movement the past four months foots up 17 vessels registering 25 547 tons, against 18 vessels of 28,857 tons in the corresponding period last year Tonnage on the berth and under commitment in this trade foots up 12 vessels registering in the aggregate [illegible]0 370 tons and of these it is not probable that more than five including two coal vessels will get off the ensuing month.

At Boston freights are dull The Samuel [illegible] field is on the berth but will probably finish loading at this port

Railroad freights at Boston are fairly active with a shipment of 4[illegible] packages including 837 cases canned goods 3[illegible] kegs syrup 25[illegible] cases [illegible] 180 packages fish

The Philadelphia freight market is very quiet and dull, but the Continental is nearly loaded

NEW YORK MARKETS

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN]

NEW YORK May 1—The volume of trade is shrinking to small proportions. The decline in prices that has taken place and that is still going on is regarded as a natural reaction from the very large advance caused by inordinate speculation in the fall and winter months and will make business more healthful In the open markets the past week trade has been very slow and with one or two exceptions there is not much change to note in prices Breadstuffs have been dull and unsettled and irregular and legitimate trade has been checked

Provisions—Very dull and nominal

Rio Coffee—Moderate demand firm at late advance

Refined Sugars—Unchanged

Teas—Dull but a better business looked for

Hides—Remain quiet sales of 2000 Cal at [illegible] 30 days

Leather—Moderate demand, prices easier Cal 24 @25c

Turpentine—Slow easier 39[illegible]@40c.

Rosin—Flat easier

Crude Oils—Met a better demand There were sales at New Bedford of 6000 barrels northern whale for export [illegible]0 barrels do for manufacture, [illegible]00 barrels South sea for export and 1,000 barrels sperm for export

Petroleum—Dull nothing doing for the California market

Quicksilver—Dull 40@1[illegible]c.

Borax Quiet Cal 10½ nominal

Pig Iron—Very dull $[illegible]@30

Hops—Very quiet unchanged

Wool—Shows very [illegible] animation but prices about steady Sales of Ca[illegible] including 75 bales and 191 000 lbs fall part [illegible] six bales low spring 2[illegible]

Hardware—generally quiet

Nails—Not in demand prices irregular last quotation $3 [illegible] accepted The Western Nail Association has reduced its rate to $4

CHICAGO MARKETS.

A Complete Review of the Situation in Grain and other Products—The Prospect for Wheat.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN]

CHICAGO May 1 The week's grain business has been unusually large and legitimate demand for all kinds of produce is considerably increased Receipts have fallen off for all kinds of grain from last year but hogs have been coming freely under the inducement of higher prices The demand for provisions is very strong and it is probable prices will reach their normal grade shortly

[illegible] Grain has been largely at the mercy of the clique and the opinion strengthens that it is preparing for a long and strong pull between this and July The theory that they have suffered the bears to beat down rates without resistance in order that they might shake off hangers on and control the deal themselves is pretty nearly established by the condition of trade here during the past week and is confirmed by New York advices To all appearances they are now merely waiting for a bulge in Europe which seems to be slower in coming than ever before It is even alleged that New Yorkers have been busily depressing prices in Liverpool for the same purpose of getting rid of all opposition in their ownership here. The deferred options in the market which have been at a great discount (June being once nearly six cents below May and July about 12 cents below May) are approximating [illegible] value June being sometimes less than two cents under May and July less than six cents.

Corn is attracting considerable attention [illegible] that the stock has [illegible] at a rapid rate and is now much smaller than at the same time last year while receipts have fallen off also and bid fair to be much smaller during May It is regarded as probable that Europe will call for heavy supplies of corn from America before the rewer [illegible] Th[illegible] likely because of the complete failure of the root crops [illegible] the relatively high price of flour and wheat Prices in Liverpool have begun to rebound and are already better than for previous years

Oats are coming in pretty freely under the influence of high prices but the demand is unchecked With fair weather prices are likely to keep steady with unfavorable weather there can be [illegible] of an improvement in every commodity

Sales for [illegible] week were made for May option as follows Wheat $1 12@1 1[illegible] corn 36@38¾ oats 29 [illegible] pork $9 7[illegible]@10 1[illegible] lard $6 50@ Closing May prices Wheat $1 12 [illegible] bid corn [illegible] bid oats 29 [illegible] pork $9 90 bid lard $6 8[illegible] Closing cash prices same as May but a fraction firmer

Receipts for the week—Wheat 182 000 bushels corn 1 [illegible] 00[illegible] oats 11 000

Shipments—Wheat 71 [illegible] bushels corn 1 41[illegible] 000 oats [illegible] 000

Receipts the same time last year—Wheat 315 [illegible] bushels corn 1 58[illegible] 000 oats 47 000

Shipments—Wheat 880 000 bushels corn 1 [illegible] 000 oats [illegible]

The aggregate grain receipts are about half a million bushels less than last year and shipments about the same

New York Stock Market

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN]

NEW YORK May 1—The World says Business is dull at the mining board though there was considerable improvement sales amounting to 51,66[illegible] shares yesterday While there is no decided rally the feeling is better and market firm

The World says of yesterday's mining stock exchange There was little change in the amount of business to day the sales aggregating 49 890 against 51,665 yesterday Prices opened generally higher and the market has been a strong one The showing at the close was a considerable advance for most stocks The feeling has so much improved that there was a pretty general hope that the worst was over and that next week might see a better market.

The Boston Wool Market

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN]

BOSTON May 1—Wool—Sales this week were quite limited comprising 1 144 900 pounds of all kinds of which 619 700 pounds were foreign The market was more unsettled than last week and prices have taken another turn downward It is difficult to give reliable quotations for any kind of wool, as the views of holders are wide apart and manufacturers are so indifferent about supplies that sales could not be forced for round lots at the price that holders would be willing to accept The sales made this week have been at rather irregular prices but mostly at a decline of 1@2c per pound in both foreign and domestic Some holders are not offering while others whose stocks are much reduced are anxious to close up at concessions

London Wool Sales.
